Weekend Wrecks Injure Four

A series of accidents in Crawford County over the weekend resulted in personal injury to four persons and high property damage. In addition three other property damage accidents were reported.

Sheriff Arthur Clough stated. The first mishap occurred on County Road 612 west of Frederic last Friday evening about 11 p. m. Dan Tinker, 20, of Grayling, lost control of a motor bike and went into a ditch. He suffered bruises, abrasions and cuts.

Monday morning at 11 a. m., a car driven by Hubert F. Schumaker, 41, of Okemos, went out of control on Arrowhead Road in Frederic Township near the Manistee River and hit a tree. The slippery, wet road conditions were a factor. Sheriff Clough said. Schumaker suffered severe facial cuts as well as bruises. His wife, Nancy, 40, also was cut and bruised. Their three children who accompanied them escaped injury.

Also on Monday, about 5:50 p. m. on Interstate 75 two miles south of Grayling, a car driven by Philip A. Fournier, 59, of Detroit, went out of control, left the roadway and rolled over. The driver suffered cuts and bruises. All of the injured were taken to Grayling Mercy Hospital for treatment and were released, Sheriff Clough said.

Michigan's Sawyer and Minnesota's Peterson Team Up for Canoe Race

Ralph Sawyer, Oscoda, and Irvin Peterson, Minneapolis, Minn., last year's winners of the AuSable Canoe Marathon, will again team up for the Grayling-Oscoda classic to be held August 21st.

SAWYER, five-time winner of the AuSable event, has long been recognized as one of the top canoe racers in the Midwest, having won at least half of the races which he has entered. Starting his paddling in a duck boat which his father gave him when he was 12-years-old, Sawyer entered his first AuSable marathon just three years later, at the age of 15. He has been on the winning team of six races so far this year.

The Sawyer and Peterson combination will be just one of many top two-man teams lining up at Grayling for the start of the "granddaddy" of all Michigan canoe races.

The spectacular night time start which will get under way at 12:01 a. m. in Grayling, will be completely illuminated by the Consumers Power Company. The race from Grayling to Mio will be run mostly at night, with the first teams arriving at Mio about 6:00 a. m. Racers will paddle for some 16 continuous hours before the first team is expected to reach the finish line at the old US-23 AuSable Bridge in Oscoda.

RACE OFFICIALS and the Michigan Canoe Racing Association of official timers point out that the best vantage points to view the progress of the race will be where several bridges span the AuSable between Grayling and Oscoda; also, the six dam sites between Mio and Oscoda where teams will make their portage dashes.

Maps of the entire race course, which will provide a more detailed routing, may be obtained from Chamber of Commerce at Grayling, Mio or Oscoda.

Communities along the race route are planning special activities in connection with the race and the awarding of more than $3,000 in prize money at the Oscoda finish line.

Red Cross Needs You

A young mother is struck by a speeding car — she is critically injured. A little boy needs delicate open-heart surgery — to save his life. A hemophiliac (a bleeder) gets a small scratch — and may bleed to death.

WHAT GREAT need do all of these people have in common? They need blood — and without it, they cannot live.

Where does this blood come from — and how can you help these people (who may be your neighbors, your friends, or even your own family)?

In Crawford County, this blood is provided for all of these people, plus anyone whose illness or injury requires it, through a voluntary program — the Red Cross Blood Program.

Denise McEvers, local Red Cross Chapter chairman, has issued an urgent appeal to the residents of this county to get out and give blood at the bloodmobile visit scheduled on August 23 at the Legion Hall in Grayling, from 12 to 6 p. m.

IN ORDER to provide all of this blood, the program depends on voluntary donors. Will you come to the Legion Hall and give your pint on August 23? You'll never miss it — your body will replace it so quickly — but the pint you give will help to save a life.

Jane and Amy Welsh saw a pair of great horned owls Thursday morning at their home on the AuSable west. They are daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Bob Welsh.

Crawford County Tourist Information

Indiana National Guard Band will give a free concert Thursday night August 12, 8:00 p. m. at the Grayling Memorial Recreation Field. The public is cordially invited. Huckleberry picking and raspberry picking continues good throughout the county. Canoeing for the day canoeist and canoeing camper is a prime recreational activity. The opportunity to observe wildlife and birdlife along miles of our streams is unexcelled. Deer viewing along our county roads in the evening can make for an interesting few hours.

All campgrounds in our county offer excellent facilities for the camper, camper, and trailer. Many of our campgrounds are on excellent swimming and fishing waters.

Trout fishing has improved this past week and good catches are reported to be taken on the South Branch and Main Stream of the AuSable. Day fishing has been good with Royal Coachman, Wakeley's Yellow Bug, and Madsen's Skunk being the flies to use. Night trout fishermen are using large flies to a good advantage. Pan fishing continues to be fair in all areas lakes.

Indiana Ends Field Exercise

The over 6,000 citizen soldiers of the Indiana Army National Guard 38th Division are to return to Camp Grayling later this week after undergoing a tough field exercise some of which was carried out under heavy rains.

Last Saturday morning, men and officers of the "Cyclone" Division passed in review before Indiana's Governor Roger D. Branigin, other Indiana dignitaries and Guard top officers. In colorful ceremonies presentations of special awards were made including the coveted Eisenhower Trophy which goes to the outstanding unit in the Division.

The 6,000 men of the 38th Division have been joined during the two weeks field training by about 1,000 Army reservists from Indiana, Illinois and Michigan.

The Indiana Guard this year has been under the command of a new Commanding General, Major General Noble F. Schlatter. This year's field training has been rigorously evaluated by regular Army inspectors.

Moving back into Camp Grayling late Thursday and early Friday the Hoosier citizen soldiers will begin cleaning up and packing up for their return trip to their home armories. The move to their home stations will use 1100 military vehicles. This motor march will be controlled by predetermined schedule of check points, staggered camp clearing times and an air-ground communications network.

ON WEDNESDAY of last week, the Indiana Guard held its first "Civic Day" program. Prominent local civic leaders and public officials from Grayling, Gaylord, Houghton Lake and Prudenville were guests of the Guard for the day and were given an opportunity to view the troops in training, enjoy a field lunch and were later briefed at the Officer's Club on the Division's purpose and the training methods by General Schlatter. The function was carried out by Lt. Col. James J. Carter, Civil Affairs Officer for the Division. Attending from Grayling were Donald Koch, general manager of Bear Archery Company and Glenn Sawyer of the Grayling State Bank and a former officer in the 38th Division.

Frederic School To Vote On 4 Extra Mills

Voters in the Frederic Community School District will go to the polls on Monday, August 30th, to vote on two propositions in which school officials seek four extra voted mills for operation purposes.

Polis, which will be located in the Frederic High School gym, will be open from 7 a. m. to 8 p. m. the day of election. Absentee voters ballots may be obtained from Arthur Mayer, secretary of the Frederic Board of Education until 2 p. m. on Saturday, August 28th.

THE TWO propositions seek to spread four extra mills on all taxable property in the district for a period of five years from 1965 through 1969 inclusive. Both propositions must pass in order that the school district has the extra operational funds which school officials state are needed badly.

WOMEN'S CITY ASSOCIATION BOWLING MEETING

There will be a City Association meeting on Tuesday, August 17 at 7:30 p. m. at the Legion club room. All teams will please be represented. All women interested in league bowling are invited to attend.

Donna Hoffman, sec'y.

World War II where he received the Purple Heart, Legion of Merit and Bronze Star with Oak Leaf Cluster. He became commander of the Division's Artillery in 1961. Assistant Division Commander in 1963 and assumed the top command recently upon retirement of Major General Loren G. Windom. General Windom commanded the Division since 1959.

In civilian life, Fricke serves as a chemical engineer with the Frigidaire Division of General Motors, located in Dayton. He and his family reside in Waynesville, south of Dayton.

Several other major changes have also been made since the Ohioans last visited Grayling including the naming of Colonel George Graf, of Findlay, as a new Assistant Division Commander. He formerly commanded the Northwest Ohio 2nd Brigade. Replacing Graf as Brigade leader is Lt. Col. William L. Bondy of Toledo, Col. Charles H. Jones of Hamilton; is the new Division Artillery Commander succeeding Col. T. Dye Barnhouse.

Three Division staff changes have also been announced including the promotion of Major Robert W. Teater, Assistant Chief of Staff G-3 (Operations and training); Lt. Col. Thomas Farrell, G-4 (Supply and Logistics) and Major John Hickey, who is the new G-5 (Military Government). All are from Columbus.

ALTHOUGH numerous changes in leadership have been made, it is expected the Ohio Guard and its of units will-perform the training much as in the past. The majority of Division units will move in convoy direct from their 54 Ohio home stations to field locations on the Grayling Military Reservation. Civilian clothes and automobiles will again be left at home. Most units will remain in the field the entire two weeks.

"The same high standards of efficiency which have marked the Buckeyes as one of the nation's crack Army Infantry Divisions during the past five summer encampments will be continued" according to General Fricke. In fact, the new commander hopes to top previous Division ratings to prove wrong the plans of the Secretary of Defense and others who propose downgrading the Ohioans from a Division to a Brigade and merging it with the New York National Guard Division. This proposal currently is tied up in a Congressional Committee.

THE DIVISION will train in the Grayling area August 14-29 and will concentrate their efforts on squad and platoon exercises featuring live fire attacks and combined arms training. Every weapon organic to the Division except the Honest John Rocket will be fired.

In addition to the 97 units of the 37th from 54 Ohio cities, more than 500 Army Reservists not assigned to specific units will be training with the Division this summer.

They will not travel to camp with the Division. Most will drive their own cars, which will be impounded for the camp period upon arrival at Camp Grayling. This will be the sixth straight year the Ohio Division has trained at Grayling.

Change In County G. O. P. Chairman

Mrs. Minnie Hartley, Chairman of the Crawford County Republican Committee for the past seven years, resigned her chairmanship at the August 4th meeting of the committee.

How's Business?

How's business doing? Ask that question of any one who keeps a constant eye on economic affairs and, with few exceptions, you'll get this answer: The gross national product, which consists of the total value of all the goods and services we produce, gets bigger and bigger and has outrun even the more optimistic forecasts of the past.

Just about all seem agreed that for the balance of this year, at least, business expansion and growth will continue, even though at a somewhat lower percentage pace. Yet, looking ahead into 1966 and beyond, numbers of economists think they can see a few clouds. They are concerned lest there should be a decline sufficient to create some fairly serious troubles in such fields as employment, the government's tax income, consumer purchasing power, and so on.

In this, there are various anomalies and contradictions. The role of government in helping to keep business in high gear provides some interesting questions. In a recent column, financial analyst Sylvia Porter dealt with one. During the first half of next year, she points out, the government, because of its spending and taxing policies, will pour an additional $7 billion into the economy. This will come from a combination of the income and excise tax cuts and from increases scheduled in spending. However, the government will take more than that — $7.5 billion — out of the economy, because of the pending increase in social security taxes along with increased revenue from other taxes expected to result from higher profits and wages. The result would be somewhat deflationary. If this effect is noticeable, it is almost certain that the poultice so widely accepted in official circles as a sure cure for any slackening in the boom will be massively applied. Under these conditions, government spending will go far beyond presently anticipated levels.

With such a prospect, fears of stimulated inflation are growing. For a number of years, prices have just slowly inched ahead and have been comparatively stable. But now substantial increases are taking place in various fields. A. U. S. News & World Report article recently dealt with them, and the list is becoming a lengthy one, covering many goods and services in universal use. The article ends: "Few doubt . . . that the trend just ahead is toward higher and higher costs of living, accompanied by increased threats of a new era of inflation."

Some of the new labor contracts — such as that in the aluminum industry — are going beyond the guidelines considered noninflationary by the government and are exerting their upward influence on prices. More such contracts may be expected.

A great deal of attention was given to the recent speech by William McChesney Martin, Jr., head of the Federal Reserve System, in which he said "when economic prospects are at their brightest, the dangers of complacency and recklessness are greatest." He also warned " . . . that we must avoid any impairment of the value and status of the dollar, which today acts . . . as a universal means of international payment between central banks as well as among individual merchants, bankers and investors." In sum, even as the economy rolls along at a great rate, many people are now wondering how to make sure it will keep on doing that. There are many diverse ideas, and we are going to hear more and more discussion on their pros and cons.

Present plans of the army include the enlargement of Grayling airport to more than double its present size. Surveying now going on will soon be completed and steps taken giving official right of entry. The present plans will include taking in the land for a half mile east and a half mile south. In this area are the National Construction Company factory, warehouses, offices, in fact, the entire plant, which will have to be moved; and the James McDonnell home. When completed the airport will total 142 miles square. Improvements in the airport have been going on for the past year, considerably enlarging it, leveling off high spots, building two new runways and other features. Now, according to the present plans, the airport will again undergo further enlarging and improvement.
